

An Introduction to Storytelling

Organised and Presented by

In Collaboration with

If you are interested in storytelling, but don't know where to start, this is the workshop for you. This nine-hour workshop (over two Saturdays) will give complete beginners a firm grounding in storytelling skills. This workshop is for anyone interested in learning to tell stories: whether at work or at home; to adults or children; just for fun or as a step towards telling professionally.

You will receive step-by-step guidance in:

- choosing suitable stories for your needs.
- learning to tell a story without rote memorisation.
- adding details to make the story uniquely yours.
- rehearsal and performance techniques.

This course is suitable for those who wish to tell to adults or to children.
